10 questions that every startup should ask themselves:

1. If everything goes well, where does the project take us?
2. ...if not, how likely would the project be to find other outlets?
3. Am I willing to try?
4. Then, when do I start?
5. Who will be my adventure partners?
6. How much money should I put into play?
7. ...and if I cannot hire, how can I find the support I need?
8. How will I find investors for the project?
9. Will I be able to finance the project from awards and/or public aids?
10. Well, it looks like I'll finally be able to get more people to join the team, other entities that can collaborate with us, right?
11. When will I reap the fruits of my labor?
